Specialist Insurance for the Cast Metals Industry

Foundry Insurance from Andrew Bourne & Co.

To really understand the complexities of foundries and the Cast Metals Industry, it takes a broker with industry and market knowledge who can advise on the range of risks that you and your employees are exposed to on a daily basis.

As a specialist for the industry, we are experienced in analysing and finding solutions for the risks and exposures

We provide companies with insurance solutions for all types of low and high risk products - including competitive rates, comprehensive coverage, dedicated claims assistance and knowledgeable representation.

So our experience, as a specialist broker for the Cast Metals Industry means we can develop specialist insurance policies to suit your business needs.

Our Approach

Through the accurate identification of our clients needs, relevant cost effective insurance programmes are designed to protect the unique aspects of your business.
