The Sign of Quality Insurance

Keeping your fleet on the road

Haulage insurance from Andrew Bourne & Co

The haulage industry has seen some tough times in the last few years. Rising costs across many areas of the industry mean that now more than ever, companies have to operate efficiently with minimal waste. But there are some things that you can't go without – and insurance is one of them.

Andrew Bourne & Co has worked with haulage companies for many years, so we understand the importance of a competitive service which cuts out the unnecessary red tape, enabling you to keep your fleet on the road – and make deliveries on time. Our policies don't force your drivers to undertake training because we know the real cost of removing a driver from their job. However, we do offer many different approaches to training where there might be added value.

Working closely with you, Andrew Bourne & Co can analyse your claims statistics to help identify areas where claims can be reduced. We can also submit all of your vehicle details to the Motor Insurance Database as part of our standard haulage insurance service.

Our services include:

- Your own experienced and dedicated claims handlers
- Hands on approach - direct contact with engineers and insurers
- Fleet claims management to manage and ultimately reduce your premiums
- Regular reporting to track performance and identify problem trends
- Post loss assistance to help defend your position in a non-fault claim

Let us take care of your insurance so you can take care of business.
